

Solar Eclipse 2026

The Event

On August 12, 2026, a breathtaking total solar eclipse will sweep across the Arctic, Greenland, Iceland, and Spain, offering a rare and unforgettable spectacle. Total solar eclipses are extraordinary celestial events, often a once-in-a-lifetime experience for those in their path.

This eclipse is particularly special for Iceland, as it marks the first total eclipse visible from the country since June 30, 1954, and the first seen from Reykjavík since June 17, 1433.

With the next eclipse not set to touch Iceland until June 26, 2196, this is a truly historic moment—one not to be missed!

The Edition Rooftop

Experience the magic of the 2026 total solar eclipse in ultimate style at The Reykjavík Edition, the city's first five-star modern luxury hotel. Nestled in the historic heart of downtown by the scenic Old Harbor, this exclusive event offers an unforgettable way to witness one of nature's most awe-inspiring spectacles.

Guests will begin their evening with a pre-celebration featuring exceptional food and drinks at the rooftop bar. With ample space and multiple viewing angles, this prime location provides an unparalleled setting for eclipse viewing. Guides will be on hand to offer insights into this extraordinary celestial event.

Equipped with solar eclipse glasses, guests can safely observe the partial phases before experiencing the breathtaking moment of totality—when glasses can be removed to take in the eclipse's full glory with the naked eye. As the celestial show concludes, guests are free to continue celebrating in downtown Reykjavík or return to their accommodation, marking the end of an unforgettable evening in one of the world's most sustainable capitals.

Accommodation

Eskimos has secured premium accommodations in Reykjavík and Reykjanes for the nights of August 11-13, offering confirmed rates at top hotels in both locations. It is good to note that accommodation is starting to get already fully booked during these two dates.

In the heart of Reykjavík, we offer stays at :
Hilton Konsúlat, Hilton Canopy, Hilton Parliament, Hotel Borg, Sand Hotel, and The Reykjavík Edition.

Options in Reykjanes include the Blue Lagoon Retreat, Blue Lagoon Silica, and Marriott Courtyard.

A variety of room categories are available to suit your preferences. Let us know if you'd like to reserve a room, and we'll provide you with the available options and rates.

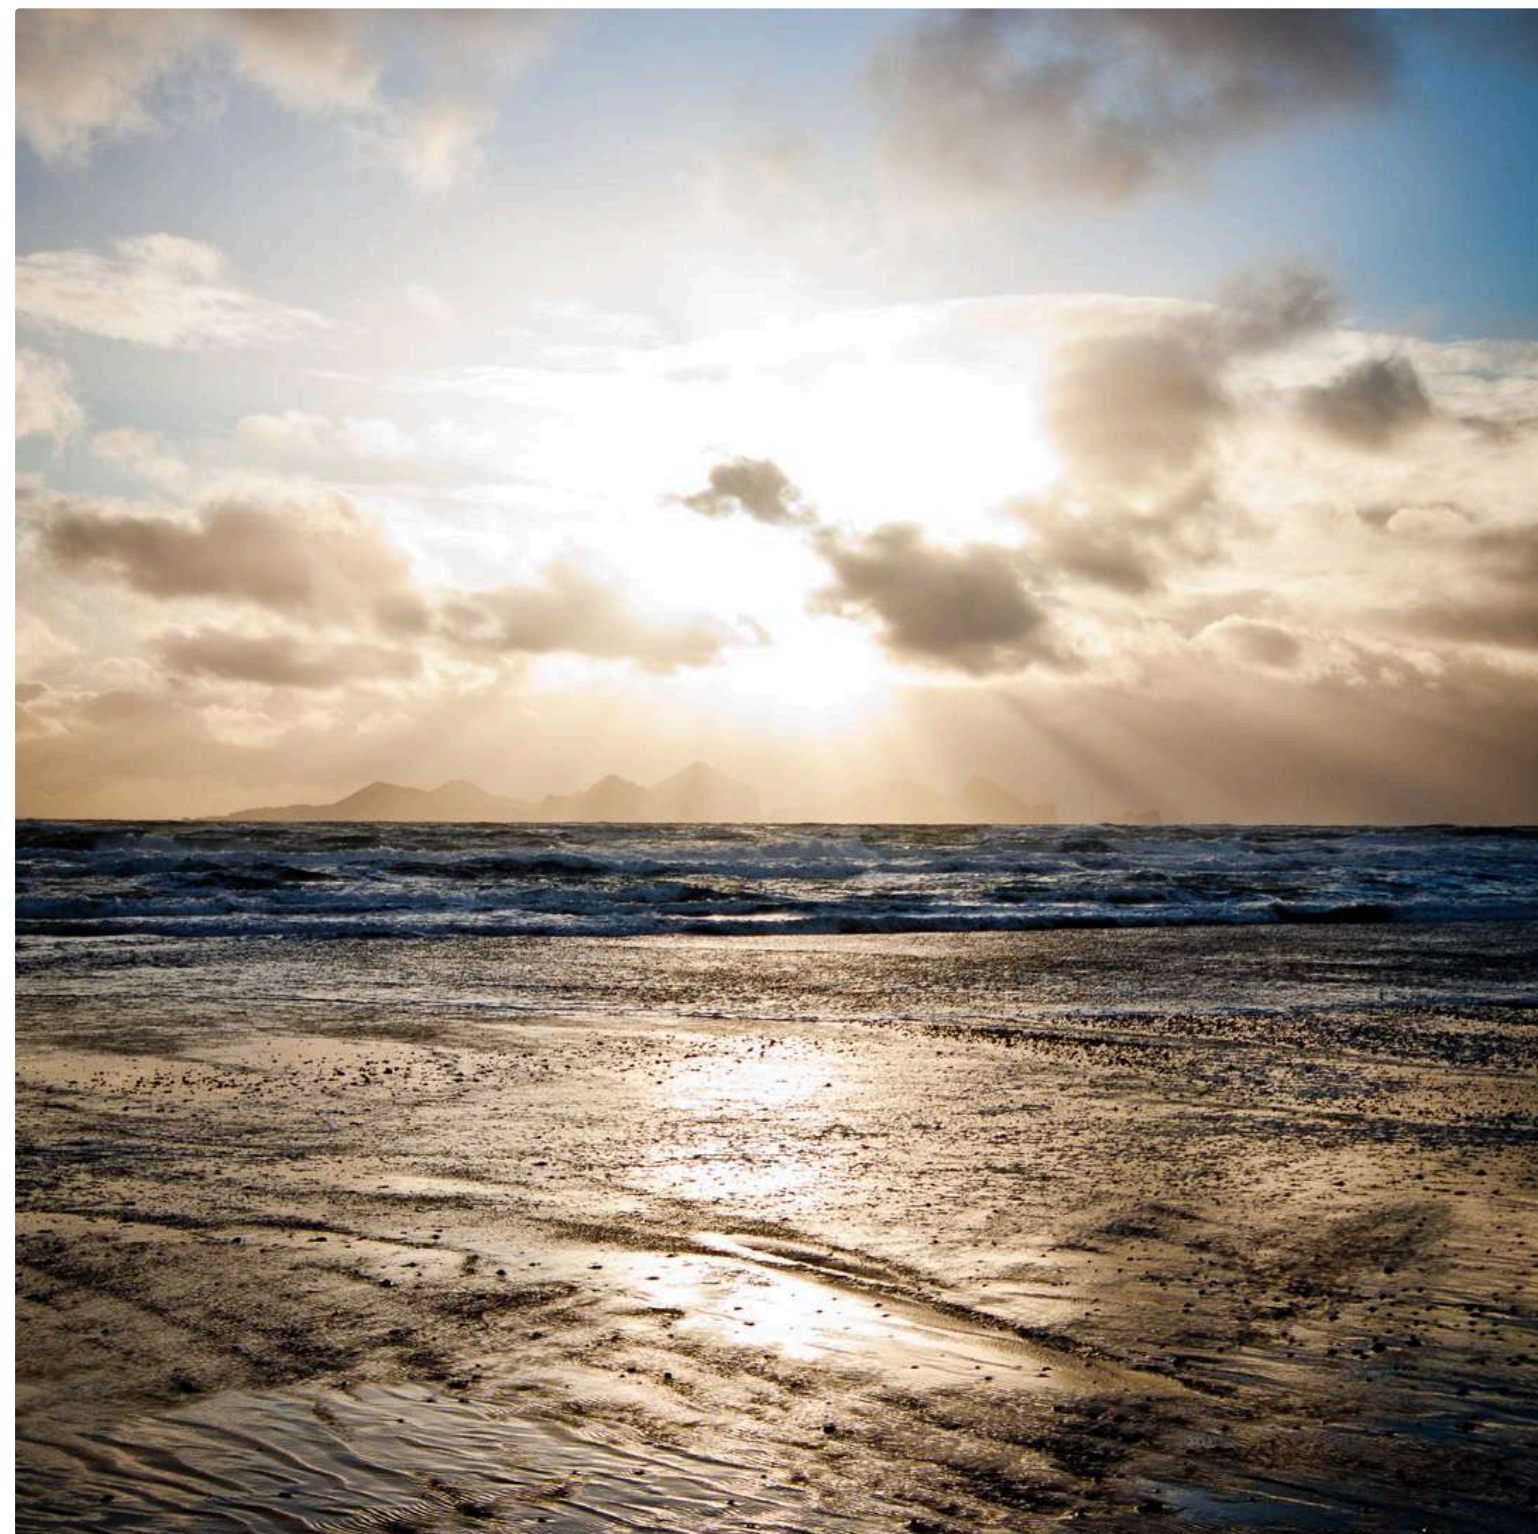

Good to know

Both events are hosted in Reykjavik due to the traffic jams that will form on the day.

It is not advisable at all to drive around outside of Reykjavík a day prior the event. Therefore, we have worked around logistics of the event for clients to be in Reykjavik between Aug 11-13th. Heavy traffic jams are expected all over.

If staying outside of the capital, 2 nights at the same accommodation is advised.

It is good to note that this is a natural event. Visibility is only affected if it rains on the day.

Are you ready to book?

Experience the magic as day turns to night in Iceland's stunning environment. A total solar eclipse like this is very rare —don't miss your chance to witness it!
